

CLEMENCEAU'S OLD FIRE IS RETAINED

Rumors of His Losing His Grip Are Denied by H. W. Steed, London Editor.

SEES COLLEAGUES STRAY France Fears Echo of Hymn of Hate in Germany's Hymn of Revenge.

By H. WICKHAM STEED, Editor of the London "Times."

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN from the London Times Service.

PARIS, April 4.—For the second time since the attempt on his life, I saw Premier Clemenceau last night. During the last fortnight Paris had been full of rumors, spread not without guile, to the effect that the "Old Tiger" was losing his grip on things and that the defense of French rights might need to be entrusted to more vigorous hands. I found no trace of any lack of vitality in him nor sign of faltering. On the other hand his face wore an expression of sadness such I had never noticed before.

A feeling that his colleagues in the Council of Four are going astray, that their inexplicable reluctance to face resolutely issues daily growing more acute is leading to a general settling of the peace, and his own determination to do his duty to his country at all costs are undoubtedly the chief causes of this expression which I can only describe as tragic.

After all M. Clemenceau is the only man in the Council of Four who cannot by any flight of imagination be accused of political self-seeking. Whatever criticism of him there may be in France is due chiefly to the belief that he has been too remissive rather than too self-assertive.

Inspired by Patriotism Only. A deep, touching love of country has inspired him. Were he once to say that he can go no further in compromise either with an intricate ideology or with short-sighted opportunism that would sacrifice the future for the sake of momentary escape from embarrassment all France would believe him and with France most men of good will, good faith, in the end, would follow him.

During the conference Clemenceau and the French delegates have undoubtedly made mistakes, but they have not been the mistakes of cowardice or pedantry. Sometimes they have seemed to proceed from a sort of national shock, from which France has been unquestionably comprehensively suffering. But they have not been comparable to the mistakes committed in other quarters, nor have they been inspired by the selfish difference of covetousness and the fundamental politics of European security that have been far too apparent in the delegations of some of the other great powers.

The mistakes of the French Government have made more errors in tactics perhaps than in faults in policy. The main work of the Peace Conference is first of all to put Europe with guarantees against fresh war; secondly, to make the world realize that war can never be a paying proposition. The French have been too ready to give up the peace of Europe for the sake of a few scraps of territory.

The French have a special reason for knowing Germany and to reduce them to the level of talk of reducing the physical bulwarks of French security on the plea that it is unwise to encourage any spirit of revenge in the German heart. The hymn of hate which all Germany chanted with such echo is already in German hearts finding a home in a hymn of revenge.

The apparent inability of British and American statesmen to realize the necessity of strengthening French frontiers is the firmest possible manner has grieved the French deeply, but they are not without hope that in the course of the next few days the demands of France to be met in the German heart.

Paris Believes Makino. The courageous straightforward statement of Baron Makino to the Associated Press has been favorably received in Paris. It is in line with the attitude of the conference leaders generally, and is an instance of that open diplomacy which they have honored in the breach rather than in the observance.

I asked recently a well known American public man who has had much diplomatic rank in what degree German propaganda has been responsible for the misunderstanding between Japan and the United States. He answered: "Not more than 80 per cent. It is high time the question at issue between these two countries, like many questions now engaging the attention of the conference, be publicly ventilated. In the present case the danger of affairs is the danger of secrecy is far greater than the danger of publicity."

This applies especially to the situation that has grown up between the United States and France. Since the danger of Europe President Wilson has had practically no contact with the leading French publicists, many of whom are cultivated, open-minded men from whom the President might have acquired much useful knowledge and who would loyally have explained his conception of his principles to the French people.

The various delegations have tended to work in watertight compartments. All have forgotten their only reason for being there is faithfully to administer the trust confided to them by their respective peoples.

Consequently if the conference should break down, as it may break down, there will be a mountain of misunderstanding between the allied and associated peoples which need never have been thrown up had the publicity of the conference been intelligently organized.

It is perhaps not too late to begin, but the eleventh hour has already struck. Unless some effort is swiftly made the best that the allied peoples can hope for will be some hastily patched up peace that may well turn out to be a substitute for the uncertainties of the armistice.

Mrs. Sloan Accuses Plumber. On complaint of Mrs. Janet C. de K. Sloan of 21 East Twenty-ninth Street, Moore Meyerson, a plumber, was charged yesterday with the theft of a diamond ring valued at $500, which Mrs. Sloan says was taken from her home when she was having alterations made to convert it into a Red Cross store for blind and crippled soldiers.

Meyerson was held in $1,000 bail in Jefferson Market court after entering a plea of not guilty.

UKRAINE ANXIOUS FOR ENTENTE HELP

Otherwise May Have to Turn to Reds, Says Petlura.

By the Associated Press.

Proskurov, Ukraine, via Vienna, April 3 (delayed).—The Ukraine is anxious to ally itself with the Entente, without the help of which there might have been "unfortunate compromises" with the Bolsheviks, Gen. Simon Petlura, the head and military leader of the Ukrainian State, told the Associated Press correspondent in a talk in the General's private car here.

"If anybody wants to know what Bolshevism means let him go to Kiev," said Gen. Petlura. "The Bolsheviks are enemies of the National Government there by bribing my soldiers by trading with my political enemies and by unfair promises to bring about peace. As a consequence they got a certain amount of domestic support. However, they now have lost this support and also have the Ukrainians in arms against them because they marched into the city with Chinese troops, who may be said to be the best type of Bolsheviks."

"The most dangerous part of Bolshevism," continued Gen. Petlura, "is not the armies, but its attempts to organize behind the lines. We have soon to take Kiev, but meanwhile we are anxious to tie up with the Entente rather than with Germany and the Moscow Government. Probably the most important event recently has been our union with East Galicia, which has been a great success. It has settled the cause of the patriotism of the people and their religion. Without the help of the Entente we may be forced to make unfortunate compromises with the Bolsheviks."

"Our misfortune has been that we were forced to fight Imperial Russia and also the Bolsheviks. Now we are cut off in such a way that we are unable to get on with the Entente, and can conduct negotiations with it only through Odessa."

BOLSHEVIK BEATEN FIVE ATTACKS

position at Murmansk, while it is urged that the peril of the troops is a reason why the Peace Conference should settle its policy toward Russia without delay. The newspapers emphasize that no steps must be neglected to relieve the force.

By the Associated Press.

ARCHANGEL, April 2 (delayed).—At allied headquarters this afternoon it was reported that the situation was unchanged on all fronts. The enemy had made no new attacks since being severely repulsed yesterday, but the artillery on both sides continues active in the Odzorsk region.

After the Bolsheviks had held a position for several hours astride the road between Bolshoi and Odzorsk on Sunday afternoon, they were driven out and it is reported by prisoners that their losses were extremely heavy. One shell from a Russian battery exploded in the midst of a party of Bolsheviks, killing fifteen men and wounding several. Machine gun fire also caused many casualties.

It was during the period when the enemy held this road and were raiding the allied lines that the French had a little success in the woods that by Yon R. Ryall of Bloomfield, N. J., a Y. M. C. A. secretary, and several soldiers, including two Americans, were taken prisoner. The French soldiers were taken to a village south of Bolshoi Ozer and were well treated.

The American casualties during the last two weeks of fighting about Bolshoi Ozer, according to reports, were 10 men killed and seven wounded. Nine others were unofficially reported missing.

REDS TOLD TO GO TO LAND OF THEFT

Bolshevik Sympathizers Must Quit Northern Russia.

By the Associated Press.

ARCHANGEL, April 3 (delayed).—Gen. Marchevsky, commander of the Russian anti-Bolshevik forces in northern Russia, started Archangel today with a proclamation in which he called on the Bolshevik sympathizers in this territory. The proclamation says in part: "I consider it my duty to expel out of the territory occupied by the army all persons whose presence is undesirable. I consider the Bolsheviks and their agents and all adherents of the Soviet cause are unwelcome. Such persons still living in the zone entrusted to me will be expelled systematically, being sent to their beloved country of the People's Commissaries, the Soviet land, where they will be regarded as 'Soviet Comrades' and abundant food and open theft, violence and other Bolshevik things become true."

"If those who desire to leave for the Soviet country an opportunity to make a written declaration on the subject before April 10, I will allow them to go. If they have not been proved guilty of any criminal activity, to leave the region, giving them guarantees of personal safety within the northern region and will be permitted to go to the front. If they also will supply them with provisions for three days, beginning with the moment they leave the line of our outposts."

"If after this they have not been proved guilty of any criminal activity, for the power of the People's Commissaries is detected among those who do not declare their desire to pass through the front by April 10, they will be treated as persons guilty of criminal activity along the same line will be brought to trial before a special military court."

"Until April 10 will be done to leave for the territory of the Soviet, civilians as well as military men, are permitted to do so."

WHITE BOOK SHOWS BOLSHEVIK TERROR

Mills Closed, Food Plentiful, but No Transport.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN from the London Times Service.

LONDON, April 4.—A Government white paper on Russia from British official representatives covers the Bolshevik regime up to date.

Much already has been told. The report says only half the mills of the country are working after one year of control by the workers. Those working are producing only half the former output. Only thirty small coal mines in the Donbas district are working. Many large mines were flooded by negligence of workers.

There is plenty of food in Russia, but it is not available because of lack of transport. Indeed an enormous stock of foodstuffs is there which could be spared for the rest of Europe. The report tells further shocking stories of wholesale executions and of victims being buried alive. In the recent strike in the Putnam works against Bolshevik commissaries who tried to address the workers were forced to flee in order to save their lives. Petrograd is placarded: "Down with Lenin and his horde!" give us the coal and pork."
